WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.

Molina, minister from Costa Rica, has been officially advised of the negotiation of the late treaty between that Government and Nicaragua; as it settles, to a certain extent, the business for which Escalante was specially dispatched to Washington. He will soon return to Costa Rica.

A private letter from a high functionary in Nicaragua, which has been received at Washington, states that the feeling now existing between the Costa Ricans and the Nicaraguans is of the most friendly character.

Treasury notes amounting to $200,000 were paid to day to mail contractors.

Gen. Walker's speech at Mobile says that, in the month of October, a confidential friend of his had an interview with a member of the cabinet, who said that the President opposed the Nicaragua enterprise. The members recommended the Walkerites to enter into a treaty with Comodoro to become allies with Mexico to bring about a war between Spain and Mexico and seize Cuba. The Walkerites repudiated the proposition.

St. Louis, Jan. 29.

The Santa Fe mail has arrived. The news is important. Annuity goods were being distributed to the Pueblo Indians. Col. St. Vrain, of the Gazette has been elected public printer of the Territory. Secretary Jackson had arrived. Gen. Garfield had come to El Paso. Resolutions were adopted by a public meeting cordially thanking Secretary Floyd and Postmaster Brown for their recent official action affecting the Territory. Depredations of Apache and other Indians are reported.

The Platte Argus of the 23d announces the arrival at Weston of Mr. Davidson with Utah advisers to the 14th of December. The troops were engaged in making themselves comfortable for the winter. Their health was good.

There is no news from Capt. Marcy. Capt. Bee, of the Tenth Infantry, had been placed in command of the volunteer companies and was drilling them.

Mr. Davidson reports no snow east of Laramie. There was plenty of grass, and the Buffalo were fat. He met three army mails and a train taking salt from Laramie to the camp.

RACHEL.—The curtain has fallen upon the glittering career of that great magician, Rachel. She was a great magician; and no one that ever saw her could fail to feel the spell of her genius.

To such of us as have never seen Mrs. Siddons, it is hard to realize the type and embodiment of the highest tragic power. What life was hers! how full of triumph, success, fame and wealth! What incense was burned before her! what laurels were twined around her brow! what homage was laid at her feet! For twenty years she was the idol of worship, before which the selectest society on earth bent. Her couch was of roses with not a fold in a single leaf. And now what remains? Nought but an urn and a handful of dust.

How alien and discordant seems the thought of death with such a life! But the grim presence has come, and put out the lights, and withered the flowers, and dismissed the revelers, and traced with his bony fingers the solemn words "Hic Jacet"—the close and consummation of earth. After life's fitful fever she sleeps in hope well.

It is not for us to draw her frailties—if she had them—from the dread abode to which they have been so recently summoned.

THE MARRIED MAN.—How is it that girls can always tell a married man from a single one? The fact is indisputable. The philosophy of it is beyond our ken. Blackwood says that "the fact of matrimony or bachelorhood is written so legibly in a man's face, that no ingenuity can conceal it. Everywhere there is a plebeian instinct that tells us whether an individual (whose name, fortune, and circumstances are totally unknown) be, or be not a married man. Whether it is a certain subdued look, such as that which characterizes the lions in a menagerie, and distinguishes them from the lords of the desert, we cannot tell; but the truth is so we positively affirm.—Ez.

Nothing sets so wide a mark between a vulgar and a noble soul, as the respect and reverential love of womanhood. A man who is always sneering at a woman is generally a coarse prodigal or a coarse bigot.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

FRANKFORT.

THOMAS M. GREEN, Editor.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1858.

FOR CLERK OF THE COURT OF APPEALS,
GEORGE R. MCKEE,
OF PULASKI COUNTY.

We can supply extra copies of the Daily Commonwealth put up in wrappers ready for mailing, at two cents a piece. Orders left at the office or with our Reporters, in the Senate and House of Representatives, will be promptly attended to.

The price of the DAILY COMMONWEALTH for the session will be $1.50 and for the Weekly, 75 cents—invariably in advance.

The Governor's house will be open for the reception of company from 8 o'clock until 11 1/2 o'clock, on every Monday evening during the session of the General Assembly.

The editorial remarks of the Louisville Courier, in connection with the report of certain speeches made in the late American State Convention, has been the means of placing in our possession the report of some remarks made in the Democratic Convention held in this city on the 8th of January. Our reporter attended the Democratic Convention, and made a report of its proceedings, which, so far as we have heard, was entirely satisfactory to both parties. In all Conventions of a political character, gentlemen will indulge in remarks, anecdotes, and allusions, which may be very well received at the moment, and be free, at the time, from the charge of impropriety, when a report of the same words dressed up and commented upon, by the promptings of a bitter, invidious, reckless, and demagogical partisan feeling, and displayed in the columns of a newspaper, will convey a very erroneous idea of the proceedings. In view of this proposition we carefully avoided any allusion to the irregularities of expression adopted by the delegates of the Democratic Convention; because we well knew that gentlemen would sometimes indulge in such irregularities of propriety, and because we supposed that the press had sufficient regard for the common decent propriety which should govern it, to overlook and pass by the occasional pleasantries which are inoffensive at the moment, but which do not look well in print. But as the Courier has, by its allusion to the speeches of this Convention, virtually thrown down the gauntlet, and made the issue as to the propriety of the proceedings of the two Conventions, American and Democratic; we plead the following as a set off to anything which may have been said in the American Convention, and charge the responsibility of this exposure upon the Courier. We have sufficient respect for the parties to this transaction, to suppress their names, although, we suppose, every person who was in attendance at the time, will recognize the correctness of the sketch:

A SCENE IN THE LATE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION AT FRANKFORT.

A DELEGATE—I move, Mr. President, that a committee on credentials be appointed.

ANOTHER DELEGATE—I sir, am opposed to all committees and caucuses. I came here to vote for Dick Bolling, and intend to vote for him all the time. LIGG NUTTALL has got no business here—let him stay on the bench! I'm for Dick Bolling. These old line Whigs have got to be such intense Democrats that they smell worse than rotten old fish; they are like old w—s, that have quit their business, and are no longer to be trusted, but want to take charge of every transaction in their line. (cries of "take him down," "pull him down," "dry up," "switch off," &c.)

AN OLD LINE WHIG DELEGATE—Mr. President, the remarks of the delegate are a slander upon that Spartan band who saved the Union at the last general election—I was always a Whig, until that party descended to the level where I could not follow them, where I commenced acting with the Democratic party, because I believed—

A DELEGATE—Take him down, he is a d—d old w—e.

The confusion was so great at this point that remainder of the proceedings were lost.

THE USURY LAWS.—Public opinion points very unmistakably towards some modification of the usury laws. The New York Courier and Enquirer says: "The present usury laws are inoperative and not heeded. It will be found, upon inquiry where such laws have been abolished, that commercial affairs were a better aspect. In England they have been removed from the statute books, partially or wholly, for twenty or twenty-five years. In the Western States ten per cent. interest is allowed by statute; and in other States there is no penalty attached to usurious contracts, so that there is really no hindrance as to borrowing at any rate a man chooses to pay. It will not do, in this commercial age, for New York to be behind the times. Our Chamber of Commerce has annually for years past urged a repeal of the usury laws of the State. Public sentiment is decidedly against them, and they should be abolished."

FRANKFORT THEATRE.—An announcement in the press bills that Mrs. A. Drake, will shortly make her appearance upon the boards at our theatre, has suggested to our recollection the many delightful hours we have enjoyed, whilst witnessing her artistic delineations of historic character.

It is peculiarly appropriate, that Mrs. Drake, who has almost retired from the stage, should once again meet her old friends, in her professional capacity. Frankfort, in days long gone by, but which many of our citizens well remember, was the theater of her earliest and greatest triumph. She was then better appreciated, and merited more commendation, and was altogether so superior to the "finsley" of the stage, which now a days, makes its reputation by types and humbug, that we feel it our duty to thank Mrs. Drake, for her kindness in once more appearing before a Frankfort audience. She will miss many faces which were once wont to greet her in the old theater, yet she will not meet many, who have learned from their fathers and mothers, to admire the genius and respect the name of Mrs. A. Drake.

LOST.—A set of Stone Martin Furs, taken by mistake from the dressing room, at the Fancy Ball. Please return it to this office, or to H. EVANS.

The next day after Kansas is admitted, we can give the news from that State with feeling that our political interests are suffering.

[Washington Union.]

Undoubtedly, for your "political interests," after taking the Lecompton Constitution, will be insensible to further "suffering."

It was our good fortune to have sufficient leisure, on Friday afternoon last, to attend the exhibition of the pupils of the Blind Asylum, at the State House. Mr. Patton, the superintendent, subjected his pupils to an examination which was not entirely satisfactory, but deeply interesting. When our own eyes filled with sympathetic tears, and our heart welled up to weeping; when we observed all around us, men from whose eyes, a tear had not fallen for years, giving full liberty to their feelings, we could no longer wonder that the Legislature had, even at this session, given the institution all the superintendent asked for, without a single dissenting voice.

In this connection we will copy some extracts from the superintendent's report, which will, no doubt, be very interesting to our readers:

That commendable law of the State, authorizing the officers of this institution to present, in the name of the State, and at the expense of the State, a copy of the Bible, in raised letters, to every graduate of the school, makes a severe draft upon the Treasury of the Institution. The very great cost of books, maps, and other school apparatus for the blind, may be properly appreciated, when it is recollected that the price of a Bible, printed in raised letters, which (in proportion to its size), is by far the cheapest book ever printed for the blind, is more than sixty times the price of an ordinary Bible printed for the seeing.

Mr. Patton stated that Kentucky is the only State in the Union, which gives to the unfortunate blind, when leaving the Asylum, that priceless gift, the Bible.

We add another extract from the said report:

We also take great pleasure in acknowledging our obligations to Mr. J. M. Heady, a former pupil of this Institution, for a very large and valuable addition to that part of the library consisting of embossed books. A few years since, Mr. Heady, being desirous that the blind should enjoy the privilege of reading with their own fingers, the unequalled productions of the sightless, and immortal bard of England, solicited from a few of the benevolent citizens of Kentucky, funds sufficient to print, in raised letters, Milton's Paradise Lost. To the funds obtained by Mr. Heady, Dr. Howe, of Boston, added sufficient to print Paradise Regained, and the other poetical works of Milton; and thus, by the joint efforts of these two gentlemen, a small edition of Milton's complete poetical works was published about two years ago.

After paying for the printing of Paradise Lost, and furnishing institutions and individuals with the copies of the work for which they had subscribed, Mr. Heady had on hand more than a hundred copies of Paradise Lost, which, together with some other embossed books, he generously donated to the present institution, in consideration of the fact, that the funds to print the work had been contributed by citizens of the State of Kentucky. In pursuance of this determination, he presented to the Institution twenty-three bound copies of Paradise Lost, five copies of Milton's Complete Works, twelve smaller volumes, ninety unbound copies of Paradise Lost, and forty dollars in money, the proceeds of the sale of a few copies of Paradise Lost, to be expended in binding a portion of the unbound books, presented by him to the Institution. The amount thus contributed by Mr. Heady to the library of the Institution, is more than five hundred dollars—the largest donation ever made to the Institution, at one time, by one person.

To the benevolent gentleman named above, and to all others who have contributed to the usefulness and advancement of the Institution, we tender our grateful acknowledgments.

We have, in our former reports to the Legislature, frequently alluded to the great want of books printed in raised letters, for the blind. Within the last few days we have been highly pleased to learn, that an effort has been recently commenced in one of our sister States, that promises to supply this pressing want, and in a few years, to furnish a judicious and extensive selection of historical, scientific, poetical, and other useful books, printed in raised letters, for that unfortunate and interesting class, for whose benefit institutions similar to our own have been established in most of the States of the Union.

Mr. D. Sherrod, a highly respectable blind gentleman, has succeeded in obtaining an appropriation from the Legislature of the State of Mississippi, and considerable donations from the citizens of that State, to establish a national house, to print books in raised letters for the blind.

The charter granted by the State of Mississippi provides, that this house shall be located in Louisville, Kentucky, and Mr. Sherrod is at present on a visit to this State to procure the incorporation of a board of trustees, to conduct the business of the establishment. He also proposes to visit in person, or by agents, the Legislatures and private citizens of the other States in the Union, to solicit appropriations and donations in aid of this noble enterprise, and to procure the incorporation of a Board of Trustees in each State, to receive and forward to the publishing board in Kentucky, such donations as may be made to this institution by Legislatures and citizens.

Inasmuch as the blind in Kentucky will receive their full share of the benefits of this praiseworthy and benevolent undertaking, and as the State of Mississippi has already made an appropriation in aid of it, and as the other States will, without doubt, make similar appropriations, we respectfully recommend that an appropriation be made to the Legislature of Kentucky, in which this institution is to be located.

The enterprise has the cordial approval of this Board, and we commend Mr. Sherrod to the members of the Legislature as a worthy and intelligent gentleman, well qualified for the great and philanthropic work in which he is engaged.

AMIS BEY.—We lay the following before our readers at the request of a friend of the gentleman to whom the letter of which it is an extract was addressed:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
WASHINGTON, January 13, 1858.

SIR: In answer to that portion of your letter of the 4th inst. which relates to the appointment of Amis Bey to the United States as the authorized agent of the Turkish Government, I have to say that the correspondence of the American Legation at Constantinople sufficiently determines the character of that official, which, indeed, has never for a moment been doubted by the Department. He was received by government in his official capacity, honored as a guest during a long sojourn passed in visiting various portions of the country, and on his return home a letter was transmitted from his Highness, Reschid Pacha, the Grand Vizier, expressing the Sultan's gratification at the friendly manner in which his agent had been received by the Government of the United States. "His Imperial Majesty, the Sultan," says the Grand Vizier in his letter, dated the 6th of January, 1851, "sees with brilliant reception which has been given to Amis Bey a new proof of the friendship of the American government for the Sublime Porte, and he has directed me to express the great pleasure it has given him."

I am, sir, your obedient servant,
LEWIS CASS.

The N. Y. State Assembly has at last organized. Mr. Thomas G. Alvord was elected Speaker by a vote of 17 Americans and 49 Democrats. Mr. Van Valkenburgh, his opponent, received the votes of 1 American and 53 Republicans. These figures, 56—54, were powerless in a majority rule, but powerful in a plurality rule.

THE FREE NEGRO BILL OF TENNESSEE.—This bill which provides for the voluntary enslavement of free persons of color, allows such as are of the age of eighteen years to choose their masters, the master paying in lieu of tax one tenth of their appraised value into the county treasury. The bill passed its third reading in the House, a few days since, by yeas 62, nays 27.

The following is a copy of the protest against the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution, which was signed by all the State officers elected under it and recently forwarded to Washington. A similar protest is now in circulation among the members of the Kansas Legislature, and will be signed by a majority of them:

Memorial.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled:

The undersigned, the State officers elected under the Lecompton Constitution, would most respectfully represent, that the Constitution under which they have been elected is the various officers to their names appended, is not the creature of the popular will, but that on the other hand, it has been and is rejected by an overwhelming majority of the bona fide citizens of the Territory of Kansas.

This Constitution was framed by a convention elected by a small minority of the people of Kansas, under an election law, a census, and an apportionment that utterly disfranchised the people of one-half of the counties in this Territory, and deprived the great bulk of the people of the other counties of the right of suffrage.

Of the delegates thus elected, but a bare majority met to accomplish the work for which they were elected. These proceeded to frame a Constitution for the people of Kansas, which, in most of its important provisions is repugnant to the wishes and opinions of the people, and in their opinion, is hostile to the best interests and prosperity of the State.

This Constitution, thus framed, was not submitted by the Convention to a fair vote of the people for their ratification or rejection, but on the other hand, their judgments were insulted and their rights outraged, by the pretended submission of what is called a vote of the people, or no slavery, in such a manner as to present no question, except that of the importation of slaves into the State in future, and forcing every one who voted, to give his sanction to all the other provisions of the Constitution, and to take, if required, a test oath to support said Constitution if adopted.

Under the provisions of the schedule providing for an election, those who voted a ticket marked "Constitution with Slavery," necessarily gave the sanction of their vote to the whole instrument, including the slavery article; and those who voted a ballot marked "Constitution no Slavery," necessarily gave their sanction to all the provisions of the Constitution, except the slavery clause, in lieu thereof substituted a clause prohibiting the importation of slaves into the State in future, and confining those now in the Territory in slavery, and their posterity, to their term, for all time to come. This is the "simple effect of the vote."

It is scarcely necessary for us to say that the privilege of voting upon a proposition thus beset with conditions utterly inadmissible and unjust, or the power of deciding upon a single, and, as presented, by no means an important question, purchased at the sacrifice of the sanction of our votes to provisions that are utterly condemned, and is considered by the people of Kansas no boon, but on the other hand, is justly held to be an insult to a people who know and appreciate the rights of freemen, and hence, eight-tenths of the people of Kansas reject the offering with contempt, and refused to participate in an election that thus comprised the dignity of an American citizen.

In view of these facts, the Territorial Legislature at its late extra session, provided by law for the submission of the whole Constitution on the 4th day of January inst., in three distinct propositions, viz:

- "Constitution with Slavery;"
- "Constitution with no Slavery;" and
- "Against the Constitution."

The returns of this election are not yet all received, but enough is known to warrant us in saying that the vote cast against the Constitution is about 11,000; for the Constitution with Slavery, 450; for the Constitution with no Slavery, 24.

This large vote against the Constitution was cast at an election held on the 4th day of January, 1858, under the provision of a law passed on the 17th day of December, 1857, whilst the short or necessary imperfect notice thereof no doubt prevented thousands, in the distant and interior counties of the Territory, where the whole people are opposed to the Constitution, from casting their votes against it. Inasmuch as the pro-slavery party refused to participate in these elections, we present the vote polled at the election provided for by the schedule of the Constitution, which stands as follows: Constitution with Slavery, 6,143; Constitution with no Slavery, 569; majority, 5,574.

Of this majority more than one-half was obtained in three of the most densely settled precincts in the Territory, and two of them, Oxford and Shawnee, within the Shawnee reserve, on lands not yet legally open for settlement, viz: Oxford, 1,266; Shawnee, 723; Kickapoo, 1,012.

From a personal knowledge of the settlements in and about the above places, we feel that this vote is fraudulent and fictitious; and taking into other palpable but less glaring frauds in other precincts, we feel safe in saying that not over 2,000 of the bona fide citizens of Kansas cast their votes in favor of that Constitution, on the 21st day of December last. The fraud committed at this, as well as the election on the 4th of January, for State officers, &c., will be laid before your honorable bodies in a few days, in the report of a board of commissioners authorized by law to investigate the same.

We present these facts in support of our declaration previous made, that the people of Kansas have rejected the Lecompton Constitution by an overwhelming majority.

The object of your memorialists, and those that supported them, in participating in the election for State officers, &c., was not designed to give a shadow of sanction to that instrument, but, on the other hand, to place ourselves in a position to destroy it in case Congress should admit us into the Union, and thus force upon the people an organic law against their will. Our position will be readily understood by reference to the following resolution, passed unanimously by the Convention by which we were nominated:

"Resolved, That the candidates nominated by this Convention, on accepting such nomination, will be considered as pledged, should the Constitution be approved by Congress, to adopt and execute immediate measures for enabling the people, through a new Constitutional Convention, to obtain such a Constitution as the majority shall approve."

This pledged, we went before the people, and consented to the elements of an election law which opened a wide door to frauds, and under which frauds were committed to the extent of 3,500 or 4,000 votes; and under the additional disadvantages of a strong and incurable antipathy, in the minds of many of our people, against any participation in an election held under the authority of a Constitution framed and submitted as was the Lecompton Constitution, by which thousands were induced to vote for the pro-slavery candidates, and with judges of the election who, in many of the precincts in the Territory, demanded a test oath to support the Constitution, in direct violation of the Constitution itself, by which many more who would otherwise have supported the Free State ticket, were deterred from voting, yet we have received a majority of all the votes cast, giving the opposite party the advantage of all the illegal votes polled or returned.

In view then of the facts that the Lecompton Constitution was framed by a bare majority of a Convention elected by a small minority of the people of Kansas, that that Constitution thus framed, was not submitted to a fair vote of the people for ratification or rejection, and that the Territorial Legislature did provide by law for its submission, and under which law it has been submitted, and rejected by an overwhelming majority; and for the sake of the peace and prosperity of this beautiful Territory, as well as the harmony and integrity of the Union. We, the State officers elected under said Constitution, do most respectfully and earnestly pray your honorable bodies not to admit Kansas into the Union under said Constitution, and thus force upon an unwilling people an organic law against the expressed will and in violation of every principle of popular government.

Intelligence has been received here of the insanity of the Hon. Thomas S. Sidel, Ex Judge of the Supreme Court of Louisiana. It seems that upon hearing of the financial crisis that had taken place here, and fearing the effect it would have upon certain stocks in which he had a large interest, he became completely insane.
